Premanand Jaysingh Asawar & Anr... Applicants Versus
State of Maharashtra .. Respondent

Ms.Pranali Kakade for applicants
Ms.S.D.Shinde, A.P.P. for State.

CORAM : S.C.DHARMADHIKARI, J.
DATE : 14th November 2005.

P.C.

. Both sides do not dispute that anticipatory bail application preferred by the applicant is pending before the sessions court. The sessions court did not grant any interim protection and that is how the applicants were constrained to approach this Court.

2. This court has protected applicants and directed that applicants shall not be arrested in connection with C.R. 49 of 2005 registered with Ottur Police Station, Dist. Pune. This order passed on 24th October 2005 is continued till date. I am informed that the sessions court is seized of the matter and the application is not yet disposed of.

3. Interest of justice would, therefore, be served if the learned Additional Sessions Judge, Pune is directed to dispose of the anticipatory bail application preferred by the applicants within a period of two weeks from the date of receipt of writ of this order. Ad-interim protection granted by this Court on 24th October 2005 with conditions as imposed to continue till disposal of the anticipatory bail application by the sessions judge. Present application stands disposed of in the above.
